We are requested to state that the Indiantown consolidated school will open its 1915-16 session Thursday, September 16, at 8 o'clock p. m. All pupils are urged to be present on the opening day. Mrs L D Burgess sent us a sweet potato last week that must have been the "Kaiser" William of the patch. It weighed four pounds and was symmetrically formed in an oblong shape. Quite a number of citizens from the lower part of the county gathered here Tuesday either as witnesses or principals in a case set for trial before Magistrate T P Fulmore of Cades. Drug Store Changes Hands.

Dr D C Scott has sold out his drug business to Dr T S Hemingway, the latter taking charge September 1. Dr Scott's drug store is one of the oldest and best known in Williamsburg, and doubtless a large number of the Doctor's friends will be surprised to learn that he has sold out. Within the past year or so he tore down the old frame building on Academy street which had housed his business for a number of years and erected in its stead a more commodious brick structure which he fitted up in very attractive style, installing a modern soda fountain and fixtures, which have since made it one of the most popular stores in Kingstree. The Record extends congratulations and best wishes to the new proprietor.

To the Tobacco Growers of Williamsburg County:

This is to inform you that at a meeting of the Kingstree Tobacco Board of Trade held September 6, it was decided to close the warehouses for the sale of leaf tobacco Wednesday, September 22, 1915.

If you have not yet sold all your tobacco, bring it along before the date fixed for closing the market.

Respectfully,
L C MONTGOMERY,
Sec Tobacco Board of Trade.

FARMERS MASS MEETING TOMORROW.

HON. JOHN L. McLAURIN AND P. H. STOLL WILL ADDRESS THE MEETING ON LIVE TOPICS.

Under the auspices of the Williamsburg County Fair association a mass meeting of farmers and others interested will be held at the court house here tomorrow, Friday, at noon, at which time the Hon Jno L McLaurin, State Warehouse Commissioner, will address the people of Williamsburg on the State warehouse system and what it should mean to them. Mr McLaurin is one of the leading men of the State, a splendid speaker and perhaps the best versed man in the State on the cotton storage warehouse system.

Hon Philip H Stoll will also address the gathering in the interest of the Williamsburg County Fair.

It behooves every farmer, banker and business man who has the welfare of his county at heart to be present at this meeting. Special invitations have been mailed to over 500 citizens in the county, but it was impossible to reach them all. Whether you received an invitation or not, you are welcome, so come and hear these gentlemen discuss questions that are of especial importance to you at this very time.

Takes His Own Life.

Mr J W Patrick, a well known citizen and farmer residing a few miles north of Kingstree at Brockington, committed suicide Saturday afternoon about one o'clock by firing a pistol ball into his head, the ball entering the right temple, coursing slightly downward and fracturing the left cheek bone. Mr Patrick had been in ill health for some months and since the loss of his wife about two months ago his physical and mental condition had gradually grown worse, causing his closest friends considerable anxiety over his condition. Mr Patrick was about 45 years of age, a good citizen, a hard worker and well thought of by every one who knew him. He leaves five young children, also two brothers, Messrs G B and Boyd Patrick, and one sister, Mrs J W Johnson.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon.

Today Jewish Holiday.

The period of Jewish holy days begins today. Rosh Hoshanah, the Hebrew New Year, is being celebrated here and all Jewish stores are closed. Ten days later Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, will be observed. As is the custom, special services will be held in Jewish temples of worship throughout the world.

Today, Rosh Hoshanah, marks the first day of the year 5,676, according to the Jewish calendar, and falls upon the first day of the month Tisri. Yom Kippur falls on the 10th day of the same month.

The change of date is, however, of little or no importance, and if the Jewish New Year day had no further significance its appeal to the Jew would be very faint indeed. It is not the change of year, but the change of life that this day stresses, that makes it stand out as one of the holiest days in the Jewish calendar. Herein it radically differs from the civil New Year; it is a day set apart for introspection and self-examination.

The sacred character of this day is implied in the two other names by which it is known, viz, the day of memorial and the day of blowing of the trumpets. In the first place, it is the day of memorial, or remembrance. As such it calls upon the Jew to remember the divine purposes of his life; secondly, it is the day of the blowing of trumpets. The purpose is to rouse Israel from his self-complacency and stir him to high resolves and nobler deeds.
